

ADA Policy

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) was signed into law in 1990. Title III of the ADA is a civil rights law that prohibits discrimination against people with disabilities in all areas of public life, including jobs, schools, transportation, and all open public and private places. The purpose of the law is to ensure that people with disabilities have the same rights and opportunities as everyone else, similar to those provided to people by the Title VI program which protects persons on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, age, and religion.
